Our Weekly News

Dear Friends

This is the Church's nineteenth newsletter of 2020 ... and I do hope it has been successfully received, as it is the first newsletter sent out only using our new email programme!

This week's big news is that masks have now become mandatory in all enclosed public places, in compliance with mainland France's national law, which extends to overseas territories such as St Barts. So this includes shops, restaurants & bars, offices and, yes, places of worship (we just about count as enclosed!). The French government hopes this extra precaution will help to control any further outbreaks of the virus.

We remain fortunate in that there have been no new cases of Covid-19 reported on St Barts; nevertheless, there have been two new cases on St Martin. But we do have other issues to contend with: the local health authority has announced that the Dengue Fever outbreak on the island has reached 'epidemic' levels, so 'measures' are being taken (although such 'measures' are yet to include island-wide spraying).

We are also carefully watching Storm Gonzalo, which is currently heading towards the Caribbean island chain. At the time of writing, it is staying far south of us. However, many will remember the previous* Gonzalo, six years ago; which was heading for Guadeloupe and then, unexpectedly overnight, it made a sudden turn to the north hitting St Barts and St Martin with significant damage – especially for those living on boats, including one local sailor who was sadly lost at sea. (*It seems that names of Hurricanes are only ‘retired’ when they cause ‘major’ damage!)

This week we have Father Geoffrey Hoare celebrating our virtual Eucharistic service and preaching for us. Father Geoffrey was scheduled to have his first island visit with us right now, but of course that got overtaken by other unexpected events! He is the rector at St Albans in Washington DC, and the national cathedral ‘sits in his church grounds!’ English by birth, he was ordained in the Episcopal Church in 1983 and has served at churches in Atlanta, Georgia; Raleigh, North Carolina; and Alexandria, Virginia (but has not lost his accent!).

Our music this week includes our usual opening hymn – Spirit of the Living God. As I mentioned last week, we have been blessed with rain and so the Flamboyant Trees are now in full bloom, hence I included them as part of our video montage. (As an aside, these trees originate from Madagascar and are known on the nearby islands of Saba and Nevis as ‘July Trees’, as that is when they are at their best!). For our post-sermon meditation, I have chosen ‘Stand By Me’, as sung at the Royal Wedding a few years back. And then we end with a more traditional hymn – The Strife is Over ... and a video of a virtual recording by The Episcopal Church with over 600 participants! So, I do hope there’s something for everyone, in-keeping with St Bartholomew’s reputation of providing music for the soul!

At 10am on Sunday, we will hold our usual Zoom Coffee Morning (details below). The subject for discussion, inspired by the Flamboyant Trees, will be travels in Africa (not least because Rachel and I had hoped to visit later this year ... the trip has now been postponed to 2021, which gives us more time to have our appetites whetted!).

Also listed below is information about our next Bestseller Book Group (the next meeting is Monday, August 3rd when we will be discussing Anna Patchett’s The Dutch House - and if you like audio books, the recording is narrated by Tom Hanks). There are also details about how to make an offering to the church, our virtual Taizé services, plus a link to previous updates, and our prayer list.

We are well aware that you are all still dealing with this virus; and that healthcare and essential workers are still putting their lives at risk. So we continue to pray for you and for them, and for all those who have been, and continue to be, affected. Stay Safe – wash hands, wear masks and keep your distance!

With blessings

Philip
